Sussex Bird Atlas 2007-11: The Maps

Produced by John Newnham and Helen Crabtree on behalf of the Sussex Ornithological Society

After four years of detailed fieldwork in Sussex by hundreds of volunteers, all of the results of the Sussex Bird Atlas 2007-11 project are now available in this digital CD publication. Winter and breeding season distribution maps for most species occurring in Sussex are presented alongside historical maps redrawn from the results of previous atlas fieldwork in Sussex. Relative abundance maps are also included, as well as maps demonstrating changes in distributions over time. With an original cover design by Sussex artist Robert Greenhalf, Sussex Bird Atlas 2007-11: The Maps contains over 2000 maps in indexed PDF files, together with introductory text and other supporting data and information. This publication is available in return for a small donation (suggested £5) to the Sussex Ornithological Society to help cover the CD printing costs.
